

The following is a description of parent and student rights granted by federal law. The intent of the law is to keep you fully informed concerning decisions about your child and to inform you of your rights if you disagree with any of these decisions.

You have the right to:

1. Have your child take part in and received benefits from public education programs without discrimination based on a disability.
2. Have your child receive a free appropriate public education. This includes the right to be educated with other students to the extent appropriate. It also includes the right to have the school district make reasonable accommodations to allow your child an equal opportunity to participate in school and school-related activities.
3. Have your child educated in facilities and receive services comparable to those provided students without disabilities.
4. Have evaluation, educational, and placement decisions made based upon a variety of information sources, and by individuals who know the student, the evaluation data, and placement options.
5. Examine all relevant records relating to decisions regarding your child's identification, evaluation, educational program, and placement.
6. Obtain copies of educational records at a reasonable cost.
7. Receive a response from the school district to reasonable requests for explanations and interpretations of your child's records.
8. Request amendment of your child's educational records if there is a reasonable cause to believe that they are inaccurate, misleading, or otherwise in violation of the privacy rights of your child. If the school district refuses this request, it shall notify you within a reasonable time, and advise you of the right to a hearing. If the decision is not to amend the record, you have the right to place a dissenting statement.
9. Have a periodic evaluation and/or re-evaluation before any significant change in program/service is made.
10. Receive all information in the parent's/guardian's native language and primary mode of communication.
11. To file a grievance or complaint with the District's 504 Coordinator, contact Ogden School District, Student Services, Building 1, Room 106, 1950 Monroe Blvd. Ogden, UT 84401, 801-737-7290. .

In Ogden School District each school has a school 504 coordinator to assist students and patrons. At the District level there is a 504 Coordinator.
